

Rethink Tobacco Indiana is a statewide initiative to bring tobacco awareness to the field of behavioral health and assist with health system changes efforts around tobacco treatment integration. This initiative is funded by the Indiana Tobacco Prevention and Cessation Commission.

Rethink Tobacco Indiana offers the following free activities and resources:

Technical Assistance

We assist behavioral health treatment centers with integrating evidence-based tobacco treatment services—in both inpatient and outpatient settings—to improve the delivery of these services.

Policy Development

We support behavioral health treatment centers with developing and implementing practice and/or tobacco-free grounds policies and provide implementation guidance.

Education

We educate all employees, including clinical providers, within behavioral health care and substance use treatment facility settings on evidence-based tobacco treatment interventions, tobacco-free grounds policies, and the importance of integrated care.

Specialized Training

We provide specialized training to employees and clinicians (as well as prescribers), on topics including pharmacotherapy to treat tobacco dependence and electronic nicotine delivery systems (e-cigarettes). Tobacco Treatment Specialist (TTS) intensive training may offered at an additional cost.

Resources

We provide organizations with educational materials, model policies and tools for treating tobacco dependence. We also provide information on available resources, including the Indiana Tobacco Quitline.
